Weeping Improves the Sight Instead Tears have their functional duty accomplish, like every other fiuld of the body, and the lachrymal gland is not placed behind the eye simply to fill space or to give expression to emotion, says an exchange.

The chemical properties of tears consist of phosphate of lime and soda, making them very salty, but never bitmering them very salty. making them very salty, but never bit-ter. Their action on the eye is very beneficial, and here consists their pre-scribed duty of the bedy, washing thor-oughly that sensitive organ, which al-lows no foreign fluid to do the same work. Nothing cleanses the eye like a good salty shower bath, and medical art has followed nature's law in this respect. respect, advocating the invigorating solution for any distressed condition of the optics.

Tears do not weaken the sight, but improve it. They act as a tonic on the muscular vision, keeping the eye soft and limpid, and it will be noticed that and limpid, and it will be noticed that women in whose eyes sympathetic tears gather quickly have brighter, tenderer orbs than others. When the pupils are hard and cold, the world attributes it to one's disposition, which is a mere figure of speech, implying the lack of balmy tears that are to the cornea what salve is to the skin or nourishment to the blood.

Carlyle Would Talk. Professor Blackie said of Carlyle: "I admired his genius. But how he would talk, talk, talk, and give nobody a chance to put in a word! One night I actually shook him. His wife had been trying all the evening to say some-thing, but there was not the smallest chance. I took hold of him and shook him, saying, 'Let your wife speak, you monster!' But it was of no use."

Looking Forward.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR YOUNG FOLKS.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS.

Are there any boys or girls in your home? If so, do you want them to grow up familiar with the best literature, and art, and with all their best impulses quickened? There is a way to do it, all an expense of less than one cent a day—a way to have in your home the greatest educational influence of our time.

"St. Nicholas for Young Folks" is the medium—a magazine absolutely unequalled in the literature of the world. It is recommended by educators everywhere—it contains only the very test and most helpful and entertaining literature, and it is illustrated by the greatest of American illustrators.

IN 1902 this famous periodical—one is the printing of long stories complete in a single number—no serials. A sciencial group of stories by the best living writers for young folks has been gathered for this purpose

"NATURE STUDY"

"NATURE STUDY"
is now a great feature of St. Nicholas. The young readers ask questions and they are answered in a department called "Nature and Science." Private schools take the m-gazine for this alone. The "St. Nicholas league" is an organization of St. Nicholas readers wherein pizes are offered for the best pictures, stories, poems, etc.
